Old timers in the Missouri River bottom say the high water has held on longer than ever before in known history. The water is seeping through the ground from having been soaked so long, and many bottom farms are now practically under water that heretofore escaped.

An old, white-haired darky living down on a river plantation, not feeling well, had a Caruthersville doctor pay him a visit. The doctor told him as he was getting old he must eat plenty of chicken and stay out of the damp night air. "But, sah," said the old darky, "how can you 'spect me to stay in the house at night and get the chicken?"

Senator Ben M. Anderson of Columbia, Mo., candidate for the Democratic nomination for Lieutenant-Governor, was in Ste. Genevieve Saturday and Sunday. The Senator has many warm and influential friends here and all seem to be taking great interest in his campaign. We believe the Senator to be eminently qualified for the office he seeks and take pleasure in assuring him of our earnest support. All indications point to a large majority in his favor in this county.

From the Ste. Genevieve Marble and Granite Works of Jorggerst & Perotka have just gone forth two fine works of art that will certainly give additional lustre to the fair fame of Mr. Perotka as an artistic designer and sculptor of classic taste. Both of them can be seen at Valle Spring cemetery. The one on Mr. Francis C. Faller's lot is a beautiful monument of Vermont marble, handsomely carved, and an entrance, fashioned from Georgia marble, representing the gate for the passage from this cold world of ours into the haven of eternal rest and joy. The other product of art is an entrance to the lot of Mrs. Anna Vorst, hewn from Bedford stone, representing nature and bearing a carved scroll with the inscription: "At Rest," indicating the last resting place of the mortal body.

John L. Boggy, Jr., Dead.

The sad news of the death of John L. Boggy, Jr., was communicated by wire to this city, the home of his childhood days, on Thursday morning, July 9, 1908.

John L. Boggy, Jr., son of the late Judge John L. Boggy and Melanie Boggy, (nee Valle) was born in Ste. Genevieve, Mo., April 2, 1867. John was an exceptionally good, kind and tender hearted boy; by nature, somewhat retiring. Unfortunately, during his boyhood days his health was such as to prevent him from enjoying the privileges of even a common school education. However, he was not to be discouraged, and by energy, manly courage and determination, and being possessed with more than the average natural ability, he pressed forward, and at the age of 17 entered into the employ of Mr. J. M. Good, a druggist in the city of St. Louis, where he soon after took up the study of pharmacy, and by close application held his position in the drugstore and at the same time attended lectures in the St. Louis College of Pharmacy, completing the course and graduating in the spring of 1890 with credit to himself and honor to the college. He loved his profession and was devoted to it until the end, always finding ready employment wherever he was pleased to go, thus proving himself worthy of the honor bestowed upon him. For about 15 years he was a dispenser of drugs and medicines in the cities of St.
Louis and Atchison, Kan., and for a short time in the city of Tempe, Texas.

Doubtless the happiest event of his life was celebrated on the 23rd day of April, 1905, when, at the sacred altar in St. Mark's Catholic Church in the city of St. Louis, by the Rev. Father P. J. O'Rourke, he was united in marriage to Miss Sadie Armstrong, a very amiable lady, and a resident of that city.

Immediately after the happy union they departed for Los Angeles, Cal., where they resided for about one year. While there they were blessed with a son. The pleasures of a father, however, he only enjoyed for the brief period of six weeks when the little angel took his flight to Him who said:
"suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of heaven." From that time John's cross became harder and harder to bear.
To his great misfortune, and to the extreme sorrow of himself, relatives and friends, Sadie's health failed, and she soon became an invalid. As a loving husband he gave her the very best care and attention at his command, going from California to Denver, Col., remaining there for a brief period with the hope of her health being restored. But his fondest hopes were blighted, and in search of further relief he moved to San Antonio, Texas. But it was not to be, and there on the 13th day of September, 1907, God in His infinite wisdom saw best to separate them, and He whispered "come."

John was left again alone, as it were, almost heart-broken and ready to give up in despair, but he seemed to say "I can't give up, I must repay a debt of gratitude to one dear friend." Then to demonstrate a lesson of true friendship, he bade his dear mother, sisters and brothers that which proved to be the last good-bye on earth, returns to Texas, resumes work with his former employer, Mr. A. M.
Fischer, whom he esteemed as the dearest, truest and best friend he ever met.

It was with him he remained until the 9th day of July, 1908, after working until a late hour assisting in moving into a new location on the evening before, he returns to the boarding house, and there upon the front steps, in San Antonio, Texas, all alone, between the hours of 2 and 6 o'clock a.m., the tender thread of life was clipped, his soul took its flight, and all that was mortal of John L. Boggy, Jr., was found by a stranger who chanced to come that way.

Mr. Fischer, whose kindness shall never be forgotten, cared for the body as a father, and shipped it home for burial.

John was reared a Catholic and remained true to his faith until the end.

After a low mass by the Rev.
Father van Tournhout on Monday morning, July 13th, his remains were laid to rest in Valle Spring cemetery. He leaves a mother, five sisters and four brothers and many other relatives and friends to mourn his death.

Mrs. Melanie Boggy and daughters, Misses Melanie, Elenora and Emily, and sons Joseph, Valle and Lewis of St. Louis; Miss Nannie Bond and brothers George and Joseph, Rev. Father Collins, Jules Rozier and Oliver Karst of St. Mary's; Sam Bond of Perryville and Felix Boggy and family of Roots, Ill., attended the funeral of John L. Boggy, Jr., in our city Monday morning.

Ste. Genevieve Victorious in Eleven Inning Game.

On Sunday last the Ste. Genevieve fans were handed one of the warmest specimens of baseball ever dished out in the park when the Oracles of St. Louis clashed with the Ste. Genevieve B. B. C. in an eleven inning game with a score of 3 to 2 in favor of Ste. Genevieve.
The contest was a ding-donger from start to finish and the continuous uproar of applause was evidence that the playing was satisfactory.

The scoring was started in the 3rd when Hunkins gained first on an error, was advanced to second when Schaefer safetied first on a hot liner to short who fumbled, both scoring on Callier's long drive to right which was muffed by Cooney. The Oracles marked one in the 6th, Watson getting first on an error, was sacrificed to second by Cooney and scored on Campbell's hit; and one in the 7th when J. Mitchell was handed four balls by Scanlon, went to third on Moran's drive to left and came home on W. Mitchell's hit, tying the score.

In the 7th things looked very encouraging for the locals. With men on third and second, R. Jokerst rammed a hot one over the dirt to first, but this was immediately obstructed by the alacrity of J.
Mitchell's right mit and almost instantaneously reappeared at home to greet Hunkins who was fast approaching that beacon, Jokerst, taking advantage of the clearing necessarily accorded him, steamed out for second. The ball was sped thereto too late, however, to endanger his safety. Schaefer now being on third, regardless of the Hunkins calamity, proceeded likewise and was likewise a victim of a like disaster. Thus ended their exhilarating hope of untieing the score in the 7th.

In the 11th B. Jokerst and Rehm hit safe, unfortunately, though, they derailed at second and dead-headed back over the same route, but Herbstreith accepted first when W. Mitchell erred, advanced on Schur's hit and was smuggled home on Schaefer's hit to left, untieing the score and winning the game.

Scanlon's curves were as deceiv-ing in the 11th as they were in the 1st, and with this advantage nineteen batsmen fanned the wind like so many wind-mills, six making safe hits. Watson's partiality to the spit ball was evidenced last Sunday, as was its effects, only one hit being made by the locals in 9 innings, but in the 12th they broke into line for four. Both teams played good ball. The score: 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 R H E Oracles 0 0 0 0 1 1 0 0 0 2 6 S. G. 0 2 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 3 5 Batteries: Oracles—Watson and Moran. Ste. Gen.—Scanlon and Schaefer. Umpire—Henry Thumure.

"To the Past go More Dead Faces" Every Year.

Once more we are called upon to announce the death of one of our oldest and esteemed members of a good old family of Ste. Genevieve.

On Wednesday morning Mrs.
Emily Boyce (nee Detchemendy) who died in St. Louis on Monday previous, at the age of 83 years, was followed to the Catholic Valle Spring cemetery by a large number of old friends, many of them having known her in her earlier days. She was a woman of sterling worth and integrity, a good mother and faithful wife.
Though the snows of many winters lay upon her placid brow, she still retained traces of the remarkable beauty she possessed in her youth.

During the last years of her long and eventful life she had been practically an invalid, but bore her sufferings with patience and fortitude and had a smile for all whom she met. Of the "ancient regime," she was a fine type of the old polished people of Ste.
Genevieve.

After mass being said for the repose of her soul, while the soft, sweet tones of the organ were tenderly rendered, she was carried from our sight to await the happy day of resurrection. May she rest in peace.

JUST IN TIME.
Some Ste. Genevieve People May Wait Till It's Too Late.
Don't wait until too late.
Be sure and be in time.
Just in time with kidney pills Means curing the back Before backache becomes chronic; Before serious urinary troubles set in.
Doan's Kidney Pills will do this.
Here is Ste. Genevieve testimony to prove it.
William F. Bader, living one-half block east of the Public Square, Ste.
Genevieve, Mo., says: "Mrs. Bader has tried Doan's Kidney Pills and received help from them. She complained of a soreness across her back, just over the kidneys. Those organs, at times performing their functions rather irregularly. Since she used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Hinch & Douglass' drug store, the difficulty has disappeared. Feeling that such an excellent medicine should be better known amongst our people, I gladly endorse Doan's Kidney Pills."
